PROPOSED CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HOME — This is the architect's drawing of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce office, which is planned for the southwest corner of Middlefield Rd. and Jefferson Ave., across the street from the city hall. The $18,000 building will be erected as soon as funds are subscribed, according to Pres. Myron Harman. The structure will include a general office with a semi-circular counter, private offices for the president and executive vice president, a board of directors conference room, and women's and men's restrooms. First disclosure of the plans for the building were announced during the chamber's annual dinner meeting last week. Harman pledged himself to work toward completion of the office during his regime.

Belmont Council Backs Hwy. Bill

A letter to State Sen. Harry Parkman and Assemblyman Richard Dolwig stating the council's approval of a bill to make Ralston Ave. a state highway was drafted this week by the Belmont City Council.

The proposed bill was read by City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy. It would make Ralston Ave. a state highway from Bayshore Hwy. to Skyline Blvd.

In the letter the council stated that Ralston Ave. is one of the most heavily traveled cross Peninsula highways between San Francisco and Los Gatos and pointed out that the road would be important when harbor facilities are provided at Pillar Pt. on the Coastside and also should the Belmont Harbo be enlarged.

Mayor Bayley Kohlmeier said that there is little possibility that the state will do anything with the street for at least 10 years. He said that the bill would not have the effect of the state coming into Belmont and putting in a four or six-lane highway.

SAFETY SIGNS—Police Chief George Potter of Menlo Park inspects street markers at a five-way intersection at Bay Rd., Ringwood Ave., and Sonoma Ave., where traffic is causing a safety problem. Chief Potter last night received authority from the city council to make Bay Rd. an arterial street from Del Norte Ave. to Willow Rd. Traffic control on Bay Rd. has been "very effective" since Menlo Park police took over recently, a Belle Haven resident told the council last night.

Menlo Park Planners Air Professional 'Dream' Zone

Establishment of a professional "dream" zone entirely new to the West Coast was considered by the Menlo Park Planning Commission this week.

The new zone idea was discussed in connection with the proposed subdivision by Menlo Homes, Inc., of Linfield Oaks, the old Hopkins' estate, bounded by Stanford Village, the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks, San Francisquito Creek, and Middlefield Rd.

Floyd Lowe, real estate broker handling property in the new zone, told the commission that the zone Menlo Homes, Inc., hopes to establish in part of the tract would be used by companies which would require large office and laboratory space, but which do not of necessity have to be in metropolitan areas. In fact, Lowe said, such companies prefer to be in suburban areas where offices can be near the homes of employes.

He said such zoning developments have grown rapidly in the East, but have not yet been introduced on the Pacific Coast.

Lowe introduced representatives of Sunset Magazine, Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., and Standard Accident Insurance Co. of Detroit as prospective buyers, and said Home Insurance Co. of New York is also considering location of its West Coast headquarters in the Linfield Oaks Subdivision.

Those who spoke on the project said most of the buildings will probably be single story and residential type in appearance. Lowe described the Gousha Map Publishers Building on The Alameda in San Jose as an example of what structures in the "dream" development will be like.

Included in the proposed zone laid out by Menlo Homes, Inc., is room for 12 such companies. Adjacent to the "professional" zone, which would border on Middlefield Rd., a regular commercial zone is planned. Other parts of the tract are to be used for single and multiple family dwellings, according to present plans. A site for an elementary school may also be included in the tract.

Planners heard the opinions of prospective buyers and developers concerning proposed restrictions for the "professional" zone, and set a special meeting for Feb. 21 to draw regulations for it. There were no protests to the development at last night's hearing.

Plan New Classrooms At Bayshore City School

A permit for construction of three new classrooms at the Bayshore City Elementary School was issued yesterday by County Bldg. Insp. A. W. Russell.

The permit was issued to Thomas Ellingson, San Francisco contractor. Value of the school addition was estimated by Russell at $35,325.

Self-Service Decision Is Delayed

The illness of Councilman Arthur Swift Monday night postponed Redwood City Council action on the self-service gasoline station problem.

Councilmen had previously been asked by station operators to pass an ordinance declaring cafeteria style station a fire hazard. Swift was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate. Last night he was forced to leave the meeting before the matter came up.

Councilman Carl Britschgi, during the discussion before the matter was carried on the agenda, said that he wanted to hear from Fire Chief Joe Lodi and City Atty. Cuthbert Currie before making any decision.

Councilman Floyd D. Granger said he had attended a San Carlos Council session on the problem and as a result had determined that self-service cannot be barred although they can be regulated. His statement drew a cheer from the packed chambers.

Atty. Harrison Call, representing self-serve operators, said they didn't want "automatic" pumps and would be willing to take regulations. He offered to send Currie sample regulations in operation in other cities.

The State Highway Dept. will be asked to install left turn storage lanes for automobiles on El Camino Real at Broadway, the Redwood City council voted Monday night.

The motion passed calls for the trimming of sidewalks and curbs at the intersection and for the installation of a no parking strip on the west side of the highway. These actions, City Engineer Glenn M. Jain pointed out, would be necessary to provide additional space for the storage lanes.

The state will be asked to handle the job and the city has offered to pay for half of the job.

Slow Progress On Condemnations

Progress came slowly Monday night in the Redwood City Council's program for condemning older buildings. These actions were taken:

Council accepted an offer to tear down a city owned structure at 2065 Broadway for $165.

L. E. Werder reported that the Poole property on Jefferson Ave. and the A. G. Frank building back of the Sequoia Hotel were being torn down. They were carried on the council agenda.

Henry Beeger reported to City Clerk Ralph Dodge that he is making a contract for the demolition of the Beeger Tannery on El Camino Real. This was continued 30 days.

City Atty. Cuthbert Currie said that the Wooll interests had signed a contract calling for the tearing down of buildings on Broadway between Main St. and Jefferson Ave.

Condemnation of the Perry Bldg. on Main St. was carried on the agenda.

Robertson Building Shows Construction Ideas of Past

Demolition of the old Robertson house at Jefferson Ave. and Middlefield Rd. was just about completed this week, leaving Redwood City without one of its oldest landmarks.

The exact age of the frame structure is in doubt but old time residents such as Fire Warden Bert Werder and Morris Cooper believe it was 80-some years old.

It was so old, at least, that "cut" nails rather than "wire" nails were used in its construction and the redwood lumber in it was highly praised by Bldg. Insp. L. M. Duncan.

The two-story structure was built by Dr. C. A. Kirkpatrick, one of the city's early physicians, and later sold to Alexander Robertson, who owned a famous San Francisco bookstore and was a collector of original manuscripts and first editions.

Last year it was purchased by the city which plans to use the land for expansion of its civic center. Tentative plans call for the erection on the property of a police station and a chamber of commerce building.

Duncan and Asst. Bldg. Insp. S. H. Kreiss say the building demonstrated the progress made in construction standards.

Duncan claimed that, although the house was made of lumber which cannot at present be duplicated, modern houses will probably last longer and certainly are more sanitary.

He pointed out that at present building codes call for concrete whereas in the past foundation timbers were placed on concrete piers or on mud sills. The Kirkpatrick house was on piers but still did not escape the ravages of termites.

The under side of present homes must be ventilated as an added precaution against insects but at the time the Kirkpatrick house was built that was not the practice. Consequently there is plenty of evidence of infestation, and one corner had to be jacked up and braced after termites had eaten away joists.

Lumber in those days, however, was of a much higher quality than that used at present. Duncan pointed out that the house was built when redwood could be obtained from the hills back of the city. The virgin redwood was highly resistent to insects and remarkably free of knot holes.

Present day lumber, he said, would not last nearly as long as that lumber did if subjected to the same number of insects.

Nails in those days were of poor quality. They were hand cut with square corners, even on the shaft, and did not contain the strength of present wire nails. If put under pressure, the old nails broke rather than bent.

Duncan estimated that plumbing and wiring installed now is "at least 1000 per cent better than the old fixtures."

Codes today demand a separate electrical circuit for each eight plugs or 12 lights whereas the old timers used to hook all their outlets on one circuit. Not only was this unsafe but also it resulted in lights dimming each time a heavy user of electricity was plugged in.

Gas heaters in the old days could be plugged in any way the builder wanted them to be, usually with rubber hoses to the heaters. Since such hoses deteriorated rather rapidly they always presented a danger of asphyxiation.

At present, connections must be made with rigid pipe and all gas pipes are pressure tested before put into operation to make sure there are no leaks.

Plumbing fixtures in the early days often had waste traps constructed of soft lead. This metal could and was often eaten into by rats. At present all such traps are constructed with a solid, hard metal, usually brass.

In addition, at present all plumbing fixtures and heaters must be vented. In the past gas heaters were frequently not vented with the result that carbon monoxide poured from them into closed rooms, sometimes killing off residents.

All the way around, Duncan believes today's houses are a lot better...except for the lumber. The United States, he pointed out, is now using a lot of second growth lumber in its houses and this second growth stuff just won't come up to the quality of that virgin lumber.

Introduce Amendments To Zoning Ordinance

Amendments to the Redwood City zoning ordinance were introduced this week at a city council session.

The amendments, if passed, would:

Permit crop and tree planting in residential districts, permit parking lots in residential districts adjacent to commercial or industrial zones, permit the erection in a single family zone of a second house on a lot providing the existing house on the lot is on the rear of the lot, and demand the obtaining of a use permit for all private amusement centers.

OK TRACT MAP

A tentative map for the Murphy Tract east of El Camino Real near northern city limits was approved last night by the Redwood City council.

OK Procedure To Widen Streets

Approval for a procedure by which Jefferson Ave. from Upton St. to western city limits and the Alameda de las Pulgas from Jefferson to Vera Ave. will be widened was given this week by the Redwood City council.

The procedure would:

1. Authorize the spending of $2500 for title searches for land needed for the widening.
2. Authorize City Engineer Glenn M. Jain to negotiate for the land needed.
3. Authorize Jain to set a project whereby the plan would be paid for from gasoline tax funds.
4. Authorize Jain to undertake condemnation suits where needed.

TO SELL CITY LOT

Redwood City councilmen this week voted to sell a city owned lot at Stambaugh and Manzanita Sts.

The Post Office Dept. prints stamps commemorating everything under the sun but Christmas. I see no reason why the spirit of Christmas, Santa Claus, shouldn't be put on a stamp. I'll bet we'd do a long office business.—Postmaster George Purcell of Bloomington, Ind.

Street Light Request Referred to Fire Chief

A letter from Mrs. Marie Hill requesting installation of a street light at Brewster Ave. and Bayshore Hwy. was referred to Fire Chief Joe Lodi Monday night by Redwood City councilmen.

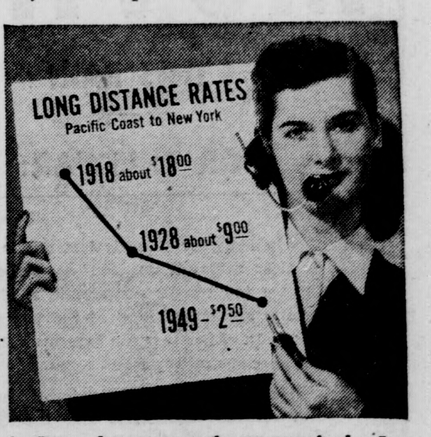
WHEN FATHER CALLED NEW YORK

How in a few short years, Long Distance has speeded service, improved clarity, lowered rates

1. Back in 1918 it was quite a thing to call long distance all the way across the country. Took a good set of lungs, too. In those days you had to use as much voice to talk long distance as you would in calling to another person eighty feet away across an open field.

2. Today it's just as easy to talk across the nation as it is to talk to someone just across the table from you. Continual improvements in the telephone instrument you use, in telephone lines and cables, in voice-boosting equipment along the way, make a normal voice carry 3,000 miles or more with ease.



3. Rates have gone down amazingly. In 1918, Father paid about $18.00 for the miracle of talking Coast-to-Coast. Worth it, too. By 1928, we'd been able to drop rates to about $9.00 for a three-minute station daytime call. And today you can make the same call for just $2.50, plus tax. Here's one of today's big bargains.

4. Takes less time today to get your connection. Now calls go through in an average of less than two minutes. These are just a few examples of the way telephone service grows in value . . . becomes a better buy. A local call still costs just a few pennies. Compared to other prices, telephone service is one of your biggest bargains today.

WE ALL EAT: Science Director Defends Sugar Use

BY ROLLY LANGLEY

Anything that Dr. Robert C. Hockett has to say about sugar is immediately discounted by all who have crusaded against the sweet stuff. He's the science director of the Sugar Research Foundation Inc. and it's easy to say Dr. Hockett has an axe to grind. And it's true—sugar does pay his salary.

But every intelligent person, interested in knowing the truth about food, will realize that Dr. Hockett is on such a hot spot in his position that he must be exceptionally careful to have supporting facts for his statements, or the opposition would soon have his hide.

If for no other reason, his words are well worth our consideration. When a product has been knocked as sugar has, we want to hear the defense, before closing our minds on the subject. Especially when it's such a universally popular item as sugar.

In a letter to Dr G. Thaddeus Gregory of the Indiana University School of Dentistry, Dr. Hockett let the dental profession have it from both barrels.

Dr. Gregory, an assistant professor of oral surgery, made some statements against sugar which the press picked up, and if you'll read between the lines, you'll see Dr. Hockett is telling him, in a restrained and diplomatic way, that he has made the worst faux pas of all among scientists—going off half-cocked, and jumping at conclusions.

"As a scientist I am perturbed by what seems to me a tendency on the part of dental people in general to consider the matter solved and to feel that nothing is necessary except to persuade the public to restrict carbohydrate. There are four things wrong with this view," Dr. Hockett wrote. Here they are, in part:

"The first is that this measure alone, without due consideration to other nutritional factors is not likely to be very effective. This is indicated by the findings in the Pennsylvania orphanage where carbohydrate was very low, and teeth were poor." (We'll come back to this case.)

("It is indicated also by fossil remains and mummies which show that the Egyptians who had no sugar, were afflicted by dental caries to the extent of 51 per cent while the Roman colonists, who also had no sugar, were affected to the extent of 85 per cent.

"On the other hand, the aboriginal Samoans who were growing and eating sugar cane when their islands were discovered by white men, showed only 4 per cent with any tooth decay."

(2) It is virtually impossible to bring about any significant reduction of sugar intake, except among a few hypochondriacs and children of anxious mothers.

"It is a fact that a majority of persons is unwilling to make any great sacrifice merely for the preservation of their teeth. If they cannot eat their cake and also have teeth, they will probably prefer to eat cake with false teeth.

(3) It is not possible in the world generally to produce enough protein or fat to replace carbohydrate to any significant extent in the diets of the world population. . . . This throws the dental caries problem directly back to the investigator for further work.

(4) It is not true, as seems generally to be believed, that the American people consume a very large proportion of carbohydrate. Himsworth, in 1935 Clinical Science, puts the percentage of carbohydrate in United States diets at 50.8 per cent of the total calories (with fat at 36.1 per cent). This is pretty well confirmed by army and navy data on the feeding of the armed services during World War II, which goves the carbohydrate percentage supplied as only 47.4 per cent and fat 40.5 per cent of the total calories."

According to this, the United States has a lower proportion of carbohydrate than most countries, Dr. Hockett wrote. The Dutch had 53, the English 58, the Scotch 56.2, Italians 65.3 and the Japanese 85 per cent of carbohydrates in their prewar diets.

"Of course the composition of dietary carbohydrate is a consideration apart from the total proportion," Dr. Hockett adds.

"The degree of refinement of carbohydrate will be significant only if some specific inhibitor is lost in refining. Preliminary observations on raw sugar give no indication of any such substance.

"Scandinavians are among the world's heaviest consumers of sugar. In 1939-40 the Swedes led the world in per capita consumption of sugar (125.9 pounds each). Australia and Canada were next (122.5 pounds and 115 pounds). Denmark followed at 109.4. All were ahead of the U. S. Hence, if these Scandinavians have better teeth than we do, this fact is a strong argument against the sugar theory of caries."

CALIFORNIA BRIEFS: Four Plead Guilty in Abortion Case

SALINAS (AP)—Three of the four persons who yesterday pleaded innocent to abortion charges switched their pleas to guilty late in the day and asked for probation. They are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Frazier, each 22, accused of leading an Oakland-Carmel ring engaged in illegal operations, and Jerry Jordan, Oakland. All three pleaded guilty to one charge and others against them were dropped. Superior Judge Henry G. Jorgensen set Feb. 24 to hear their probation requests. Harry Sherman, Oakland, held to his first plea of innocence and will be tried Feb. 15.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — CIO longshoremen last night tabled a proposal to drop some of their members from work roles to give members with more seniority a more full work week.

The proposal was tentatively approved earlier by union officials. It was designed to give older union members a greater share of the dwindling dock work.

The tabling means it will take a unanimous vote of the membership to bring the proposal up for further consideration.

Unemployment Takes Jump

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The number of persons seeking unemployment insurance in California last week was greater by 127,899 than in the corresponding week a year ago.

Employment Dept. Dir. James G. Bryant said the number of jobless benefit applicants is on the upswing because of:

(1) Natural seasonal unemployment.

(2) Influx of job seekers from other states.

(3) The recent cold spell.

Bryant said the total number of applicants for the week ending Feb. 3 was 383,348 as compared with 361,502 the week before and 313,600 four weeks ago.

There has been "a general tightening up in the labor market," Bryant said.

But the unemployment trend is more marked in California, he explained, because persons hunting jobs are flocking in greater numbers to California than to other states.

Also, he said, recent heavy snows have kept certain groups—such as lumber and farm workers—from being able to work.

Only one region in the state, Bryant said, showed less unemployment last week than a year ago. That was the North Coast area with 1735 fewer jobless than 12 months ago.

Eight Acts Slated Tonight In First Talent Quest Show

Eight acts are scheduled for tonight in the first of six talent quest shows at Sequoia Theater.

The program will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Bill Hudson, special events announcer for radio station KVSM, will be master of ceremonies. Hudson, who as naval representative, conducted many bond rallies in Redwood City during the war. He also had appeared on local Optimist and Lions Clubs' programs.

Contestants appearing on the Sequoia stage tonight are Sinney Lee Isaacson, blues singer; Sal Butero, trombonist; Miss Marianne Di Angelo, vocalist (operetta); Ronnie and Sammie's dance band, local band; Zeda Gayle, popular songs; Jack Smith, hula dancer; Carmen Rios, vocalist, and Pat Peterson, guitar and vocalist.

Judging the contest will be Redwood City Mayor William M. Werder, William Balastrasi of the Bank of America, and Tribune City Editor Otto Tallent.

Winners of the first five nights of the Talent Quest—to be held on Thursday nights—will compete with each other on the sixth night of the contest. The Sequoia Theater winner will compete at the Fox Theater in San Francisco and the winner there will get an expense-paid trip to Hollywood to compete at famed Grauman's Chinese Theater. First prize at Hollywood will be $1000, second prize $500. A screen test also will be given the winner.

The Talent Quest is sponsored jointly by Sequoia Theater, Redwood City Tribune, radio station KVSM, Hamilton's Brake Service and Yorkshire Clothes. Persons wishing to compete in the future Talent Quest shows may obtain audition blanks from any of the sponsors. Auditions are held each Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the KVSM studio, 279 Baldwin Ave., San Mateo.

Ravenswood PTA Told of Needs

Facts and figures were mixed with humor as J. H. Stubbe told Ravenswood School PTA members last night the need to keep pace with the growing needs of their children with more classrooms and better teachers.

He pointed out that though the new Belle Haven Grammar School has eliminated the need for "double-session" classes for the remainder of this school year, there will be 300 more children ready for school in September. His facts were substantiated by Supt. Stanley Schnepple, who announced that by mid-March he would issue a survey showing the needs of Ravenswood Elementary School Dist. and offering possible solutions.

Stubbe traced the origin of the Ravenswood PTA. He related that Mrs. J. A. Cameron brought $6.35 from the defunct North Palo Alto PTA to the new Ravenswood School PTA on Nov. 4, 1921, and thus started the financial prosperity of the organization.

The 13 original charter members included Mrs. Morrel, president, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. J. A. Cameron, Mrs. J. H. Stubbe, Mrs. Cleland, Mrs. Lapham, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. A. E. Albertson, Mrs. Bertha Lam, Mrs. F. C. Nickerson, Mrs. L. H. Brown, Mrs. Rose Rowe and Mrs. Jane Howe, the only one who was present last night. She was honored by Mrs. John S. Clark, president, and fellow members.

Referring to "Fathers Follies" which begins its three-day run tonight, Stubbe said that in 1922 the group had its first "Fathers' Night" and in 1929 the men put on a play dressed as ladies and portrayed a PTA meeting.

Ravenswood School Dist. was formed on Jan. 4, 1892, with a one-room school in North Palo Alto, but a record of daily attendance is not available in the records until 1904-05, according to Stubbe. In that year there were 23 in attendance. In 1910 something happened, said he, for there were but 10. In the next four years the registration went as high as 17, but dropped back to 10 in 1914. In 1917-18 the Runnymede tract was opened and the population grew. The school attendance became 41.

In 1943 the Willow site was purchased and in 1945 a special $1.10 tax was voted by the people to go with the 90 cents that the taxes had already become and the tax rate has remained $2 until now. In 1947 a $172,000 brought the bonded indebtedness up to the $2 level, so that this past year, when more classrooms were needed, it was necessary to seek state aid. $140,000 from the state enabled the board of trustees to authorize the construction of Belle Haven School.

Schnepple pointed out that the school district will need $1,000,000 in the next four years to keep up with the mushrooming population.

Mrs. Carolyn Greene of the Ravenswood faculty was honored with a life membership certificate and pin as the most outstanding person in the community for the year.

Mrs. Louise Babb Mrs. Thomas Callahan and Mrs. Thomas B. Fitch were given their past president pins by Founders Day Chmn. Mrs. James Percy.

Mrs. Donald Walker, salvage drive chairman, reported that the salvage people are mailing the Ravenswood PTA a check for $57.06 and that they will return in 10 days to pick up late contributions.

Deputies Quell Flareup At Juvenile Hall Movies

Two deputy sheriffs were called to Hillcrest, San Mateo County Juvenile Hall west of Belmont, Saturday night to quell an incipient riot starting from officials' refusal to let the boys sit with the girls during a movie.

Irving Newman, superintendent of the juvenile hall, said that the six boys and five girls at the hall became untractable when Anders Stenberg, a supervisor, led one of the girls out of the room after her refusal to move from the side of a boy.

Newman said that there was considerable tension at the juvenile hall as a result of an automobile accident in which four youngsters were hurt earlier in the day. The boys had returned to the juvenile home from the hospital.

One of the girls sat by the side of one of the boys who had been injured earlier, and the other boys demanded that they be allowed to sit with the girls, Newman declared.

Stenberg ordered the girl to move but she refused. He took her arm to escort her from the room, whereupon the other children jumped up, started booing, and the movie had to be stopped. Stenberg called the deputies, and upon seeing the uniformed officers the children went to their rooms.

Earlier last week, Newman declared, a 14-year-old boy who was caught with a pack of cigarets in his pocket, broke seven windows in his room after he was isloated as a disciplinary measure. The cost of repairing the windows, Newman said, was about $15.

Sewer Proposal Set for Belmont

The Belmont City Council this week approved an agreement whereby three families in Cipriani-Carmelita Ave. area can put in a temporary sewer of their own pending the installation of permanent facilities.

The area had been condemned for septic use and a recent sewer project fell through when bonding houses failed to bid on the sewer bonds.

Burglars Raid Lumber Company

Burglars during the weekend stole several hundred dollars worth of tools and building materials from the Shannon Lumber Co., 2663 Fair Oaks Ave., North Fair Oaks, the sheriff's office reported Wednesday.

George Shannon, 808 Vista Dr., Emerald Lake, operator of the lumber yard, said that the thieves took an electric saw, a half keg of nails, from six to eight dozen door hinges, two dozen slide bolts, two ironing boards and two boxes of door stops.

The burglars cut the lock from a storage shed at the lumber yard. The burglary occurred between 4:30 p.m. Saturday and 2:30 p.m. yesterday, when it was discovered.

Another small burglary was reported to the sheriff's office during the weekend.

Everett Collopy, 345 Acadia St., Bayshore City, reported that burglars entered his home and stole a $25 table model radio.

Experts to Aid Taxpayers

South San Mateo County residents who are having trouble figuring out how much money they owe the government are going to have expert help to aid them with their tax returns.

A federal internal revenue department man will be at the courthouse each Thursday this month, from 1 to 4 p.m. From March 1 to March 15, the deadline on federal taxes, the tax expert will be at the courthouse daily from Monday through Friday.

A state income tax man also is scheduled to open up shop at the courthouse March 7 for a six-day period to aid residents with state income tax forms.

S. T. Ratliff To Direct '49 RC Rodeo

Sanford T. Ratliff is the executive secretary of the 1949 Redwood City Fourth of July celebration.

Ratliff was appointed this week by the board of directors of the Peninsula Celebrations Assn., and he goes to work immediately on a part-time basis. Effective April 15, he will be placed on a full-time footing.

S. T. RATLIFF

Ratliff returned to Redwood City recently after nearly two years in 29 Palms. He has been a longtime resident of Redwood City and operator of several local businesses.

In addition, Ratliff is a past president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, a leader in the Redwood City Junior Chamber of Commerce, and held a similar position as secretary manager of the rodeo events here two years ago.

Pres. John Rolla, in announcing the appointment of Ratliff, reported that all of the sub-committees are now at work on this year's celebration, and reports of their activities will be given during the Feb. 28 meeting at the Recreation Center.

Suitcase Artists Strike in Millbrae

The Peninsula's "suitcase burglars"—now believed to be two men and a woman—ransacked a Millbrae residence last night and escaped with $600 loot.

Chief of Police Walter Swope said they were the same band that burglarized three Burlingame Village homes Friday.

The Millbrae victim was Lee Smith, 139 Parks Blvd.

The burglars operated with great speed and skill, literally turning the house upside down without being observed by nearby neighbors or passers-by on the busy street, just a half block off El Camino Real, Swope reported.

Smith and his family were away from the house only three hours, between 5 and 8 p.m.

RC Woman Hurt In Accident Here

Vivian Brogoitti, 29, 275 Poplar St., was treated at Palo Alto Hospital Wednesday for a cut leg suffered in a two-car accident on El Camino Real at Broadway.

Redwood City police said she was a passenger in a car driven by John A. Brogoitti, 26, which collided with a car driven by Kenneth E. Schock, 23, 1117 Fay St., at 2:30 a.m.

Brogoitti, police said, had stopped at Broadway for a traffic signal. The sideswipe happened when Schock attempted to make a left turn from El Camino onto Broadway.

May Dissolve Grand Jury: Dr. Guardino

Dr. S. J. Guardino, chairman of the grand jury's law enforcement committee, this week said he has heard rumors to the effect that the grand jury will be dissolved on Feb. 15.

Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton, who appointed the jury, denied that he had any plans to dismiss it.

The judge declared that he appointed the jury to do its prescribed job and that he has heard nothing that would require him to believe that the jury was not fulfilling its functions.

The rumor apparently started in Brisbane, where Dr. Guardino has his office. It came even as the grand jury was preparing for tonight's meeting with the mayors of all San Mateo County cities on plans for drafting a uniform law outlawing gambling.

Dr. Guardino said that the grand jury also has sent letters to the police chiefs in the county asking them for information on the gambling situation in their jurisdictions. The chiefs are not invited to tonight's meeting.

The letters are intended more to check up on the various police departments, Dr. Guardino said.

"We want to determine what they know about the gambling situation and what they are doing about it," he declared. "If their replies are not satisfactory we will have to take some action."

He said that the grand jury has definite knowledge of gambling in certain places and he wishes to determine whether the police chiefs will include those places in those reports. The doctor said that the jurors want to know if the chiefs are "covering up" for anyone.

Dr. Guardino said that he has checked with the telephone company to determine whether his telephone lines have been tapped. The phone company's agents reported that "everything is in order," but the doctor said that the "taps" may have been removed before the investigation.

"I feel that they were tapped, however," he declared.

Tonight's meeting is expected to last more than three hours. The grand jury's plans call for a law which would affect both the incorporated and the unincorporated areas of the county, and would ban gambling activities of all sorts, including pinball.

Dr. Guardino said that the jury does not intend to have an anti-gambling ban placed on private clubs or church bazaars. The jury is interested in stopping commercial gambling, he declared.

An ordinance which would allow card rooms to operate is before the board of supervisors, but action on it has been held up ending the grand jury's meeting with the mayors.

To Add 10 Persons To Hospital Staff

The County Health Dept. today was authorized to add 10 persons to the Community Hospital staff, thereby averting the possibility of closing some of the wards.

County Executive Frederick Peterson authorized the hiring of 10 additional hospital attendants after he received a letter from the advisory board of health urging the move.

"In case the needed workers are not employed," the health board wrote to Peterson, "the board of health is of the opinion that it will be necessary to close certain wards in the hospital in order that patients received may have adequate service."

Dr. Harold Marks, the hospital superintendent, said that he had funds in his budget to hire 10 additional nurses, but has been unable to fill the vacancies. The hiring of the attendants will alleviate a situation which the board of health deemed "an emergency."

Store Operator Named in Suit

Mrs. Janet M. Wolfson, 4 Bassett Ln., Atherton, filed suit for divorce in superior court this week, charging her husband, a wealthy jewelry store owner, with cruelty.

Mrs. Wolfson asked for custody of their 2-year-old child, Terry; $500 a month support for herself and the child; and for court approval of a private property settlement.

The couple was married on July 15, 1935, in Los Angeles. Mrs. Wolfson listed as community property the Atherton home, another home in Palm Springs, $35,000 worth of insurance, a partnership in Royce Jewelers, San Jose, and the Michaud Jewelry Store, San Mateo.

Carpenter Dies On Home Project

Ward Sargent Bagley, 45-year-old carpenter, was stricken unexpectedly and died Wednesday while working on a house at 1817 Greenwood Ave., San Carlos, the coroner's office here reported.
